Booster Trainings

Pre-requisite: completion of Level 1 FAN training

A Booster Training offers FAN-trained professionals an opportunity to deepen your understanding of FAN concepts. You will review 1 or more core processes and practice using them within your group, under the guidance of a trainer. Café con una entrenadora are casual drop-in sessions where you can bring a case study or a FAN question. All sessions will be on Zoom.

BIPOC FAN Gathering

Pre-requisite: completion of Level 1 FAN training
2nd Monday of each month | January–December (10–11)
Facilitator: Betty Peralta

This is a 60-minute, FAN-focused reflective gathering for home visitors and supervisors who identify as BIPOC (Black, Indigenous, Person of Color). Think with other FAN-trained professionals about your questions and challenges. Support each other as you explore the unique ways identity and FAN show up in your work. Attend as many (or as few) sessions as you wish. There is no cost to participants of this training as part of Cooper House’s commitment to equity.

Our Sliding Scale

We believe that optimal development for children is only possible in a just and equitable community. We are committed to making professional development and Reflective Consultation opportunities accessible to prenatal-five workers in our region.

Every professional and organization's budget and access to resources is different and influenced by systems of oppression. Our Sliding Scale seeks to promote equity by partnering with state-wide agencies that sponsor some organizations, and by discounting the training cost for other organizations.
